Wow! Just Wow! Our founder, John Rankin, has received his 15th patent. While we all know that he is a brilliant innovator, this achievement puts him in an elite class of prolific inventors.

John started his patent-writing avocation eight years ago, and CSI has been fortunate to receive assignments for several of his patents. His work includes many technological advancements that CSI has already implemented—Network Folding—and many more to come in the next few years.

While John is not involved in the daily operations of CSI, we are fortunate to have him as a trusted adviser and as our z/VSE™ instructor for our growing cadre of mainframe programmer apprentices.

Congratulations, John! We are proud of you and honored to carry your innovations into our mainframe market.
